American Legion Auxiliary Meeting

Mrs. William E. Lewis was elected corresponding secretary and Mrs. C.

B. Watson, recording secretary. The building was brought before the meeting, the most important being the announcement of the fact that a handsome building in Washington, situated two blocks from the National Capitol, had been won by a dozen of that city, for the purpose of being fitted up with all necessary equipment to accommodate visiting relatives of ex-service men who are decorated and disabled and attend schools in Washington. The building contains 62 rooms and has been loaned to the American Legion for a period of five years. The Legion had offered to donate the surplus of the equipment and to establish a fund for maintaining it.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett of Alexandria, former president of the Legion, also had a word to say, and it was necessary for such an institution and worked for it during her administration has contributed $500.00 to the maintenance fund.

There were some suggestions made in regard to the subject of the work of the ex-service men in hospitals during the annual meeting of the American Legion, which will be held at the National Capital next year. It was suggested that the ex-

ASHBURNHAM, N. C., April 25.—The funeral of George Washington Miller, 64, of this city, took place today at 11 o'clock from the residence of Miss Margaret VanDusen, between the Vanderbilts' mansion and Hon. John Francis Amherst, over whom until he resigned he presided as the first minister of the British embassy in Washington.

The burial was the subject of a national obituary in the Washington Herald and the only one of his is George W. Vanderbilt who was the youngest of the grandchildren of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt.

On her maternal side she is a descendant of Peter Stuyvesant, the last Dutch governor of what is now Manhattan.

The ceremony was performed in the picturesque Church of All Souls erected by her late father in Baltimore. The channel of the river was filled with a mass of lilacs, dogwoods held last December and a considerable sum was realized and forwarded to the men.

Signal Fire

Great progress is being made throughout Virginia regarding the production of the pageant, "Signal Fire," which is to be given on or near May 12th, in the cities and leading towns of the state by the central committee of the Graduate Nurses association, according to Miss Louise Burleigh, the author and state-wide director, who keeps in close touch with the entire movement. "Never have I seen such fine co-operation everywhere," declared Miss Burleigh in a recent speech, "for of all the means of civic, patriotic and philanthropic organizations that have been asked to help with the tableaux, only two in the entire state have refused, and those had very good reasons."

Garden Week

The quietness of the past week, celebrated as National Garden Week, has covered a ceaseless activity along the lines of this city's social development which has been entered into by hundreds of citizens, but because their work is all absorbing, none have found time to make comment. The rake and the hoe, and a bit of freshly turned earth have been more absorbingly popular than bridge and mah-jongg, and the seed-catalogue and garden magazine, more thrilling than the latest novel.

Ladies in gingham dresses have kept open house in the summer houses, under grape arbors and percolators, while calling the attention of the fairer sex to the latest information on how to prepare flower-beds and borders.

The display of handsome paintings of Old English gardens which are shown at the Westside Club room under the auspices of the Garden Club of Danville last week was a tangible evidence of the sincerity of the club in its efforts to bring to the public the best work of famous artists who have pictured the glowing beauty of even the simplest flowers. Many of the pictures were painted around simple homes such as would have been, without the garden, as the peasant's. The peasant homes particularly seemed embedded in flowers as if nature had bountifully supplied all her beauty to supplement man's lack. Seeing the pictures of the gardeners' work, the artist's usually aroused a greater interest in those at home and stirred native ambition to make them equally beautiful.

Those having beautiful gardens in the town invited inspection and revealed a wealth of interest. Little suspected by those who keep to the main thoroughfare—and various white spring flowers, all gathered from the Biltmore estate.

Miss Vanderbilt made her way up the aisle alone, preceded by her maid, and followed by her bridesmaids, Cleveland and two small flower girls, Helen Royal and Peggy Morzan. She was met at the altar by her mother, Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt, who gave her in marriage, and Mr. Hugh Tennant, her best man. Mr. Cecil Attendant was the officiating minister.

The betrothal ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. G. Bramson, Bennett pastor of All Souls Episcopal church. The bride's uncle, the Rev. George Granville Merrill of Scotch border, Mass. sobornized the marriage, which was the full Episcopal service. Right Rev. James M. H. Hooper, bishop of Western North Carolina, pronounced the blessing.

The bridal couple will make an extended tour abroad and, returning home in the summer, will make their home at Biltmore house.

FOR VACATION DAYS

Time flies, you know and ere you've time to think about it, the summer will be upon you. Are you prepared with summer clothes?

Here's a frock you'll like for not only is it good to look at but its make and quality make it easy to clean and launder. Whether you expect to vacation home or away, you'll want this frock.

Gingham, novelty voiles, linen, cotton crepes and washable silk crepes are suitable for this style, patterns for which come in sizes to suit 36, 38, 40 and 44 inches, 3 yards. In the medium size, best measure of 40-inch material with $\frac{1}{4}$ yard 27-inch contrasting is required. Price 15c, in one or two cent stamps

The old Colonial garden which almost surrounds the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Williamson will not be at its best until the snowballs are white, but it is at all times a place of calm restfulness, with that quality of atmosphere to be found only in old gardens.

If all were mentioned, the list of lovely gardens to be seen in Danville would be a very long one and some of the most charming would be overlooked in each. Because Easter came so late this year all nature seemed to burst into full leaf and flower in commemoration of the time and place one of our indoor members was abandoned for the glorious outdoors.

The annual meeting of the Virginia Garden Clubs which is to be held in this city in May, will be an incentive to put all the gardens to trim so that Danville will not be behind in any respect. There will be a tour of the garden tour and an elaborate program is being arranged for their entertainment. Among the places of interest to be seen are the gardens of the world, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hughes, and Oak Hill, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hall.

Spring Garden

SPRING GARDEN, Va., April 27.—The fair weather of last week enabled the farmers to push their spring plowing and considerable progress was made with the work. Practically all of the tobacco fertilizer has been hauled and the preparations now being made indicate that a full crop of tobacco will be planted this year. No scarcity of plants has been mentioned by any one in this neighborhood.

The well at the high school has been completed and is now in use very much to the gratification of the faculty and students. The cost of this improvement was borne by the school league, assisted very materially by the faculty and students.

The commercial call over the rebuilt lines of the Pittsylvania Telephone Co. was handled last Saturday shortly after the connection at Chatham exchange had been made.

Rev. D. N. Kiarro filled his regular appointment here yesterday, preaching to good congregations at both morning and evening services. W. S. Corbin of Altavista, Va., spent the day here yesterday visiting his mother, Mrs. L. A. Corbin.

"OTHER SIDE OF DEATH"

SUBJECT OF EVANGELIST

Man is not immortal and will not be until the morning of the resurrection. At that time only the righteous will obtain that gift, according to Evangelist Uzzell D. Pickard. "The wicked never were immortal and never will be. God never made a thing He cannot destroy," said the evangelist last night as he was discoursing on "The Other Side of Death."

There is good deal of interest in these lectures which are being given by Evangelists Westbrook and Pickard in Silverman's vacant store on Main street.

"Death is a sleep, long and peaceful, out of which every soul will be awakened at the call of the 'life-giver,'" continued Mr. Pickard. "Neither is man conscious during this sleep of death as some think." To subordinate these statements there was thrown upon the screen the following passages of Scriptures: John 11:1-14; 1 Corinthians 15:51-53; Ecclesiastes 12:1-6, and many others.

Tonight the subject will be "The Unquenchable Fire Where the Worm Dieth Not," or "Hell—Where Is It?"

THIS WOMAN'S MARVELLOUS RECOVERY

All Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Truman, Minn.—"I was badly run-down, had pains in my side and back; sometimes I could hardly move around in bed. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking it I was so much better I could do my housework again. I do my housework, have a garden, raise chickens, and in harvest time I worked in the field and helped pick corn. Sometimes I do chores and milk. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after my four-months-old baby was born, and it has always helped me wonderfully. I believe there is no better medicine made for women, and I hope every woman will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. AUGUST R. WIEDERHOFF, R. No. 2, Box 84, Truman, Minn.

Springtime Termed Complete Success

large and appreciative audience at the Majestic theatre where it was presented by Danville historic and operatic talent under the direction of the John B. Rodgers Producing company. In the judgment of many of the best critics in the large and enthusiastic audience the musical comedy was the best piece of work done by home talent in this city in many years, if indeed it has been excelled. This fine piece of theatrical presentation was put on under the auspices of the Industrial Department of the Y. W. C. A., and was liberally patronized by members and friends of the Y. W. C. A. about 500 seats down-stairs in the play-house had been sold and the upper floor was sold out, thus indicating that the affair was a remunerative as well as a meritorious one artistically. The staging and direction of the piece was admirably looked after by Miss Marie C. Richter.

The plot of the comedy with music, as far as such offerings are supposed to have a coherent plot, is constructed around the romance of a youthful pair which was blighted by adherence to the old ideal of unswerving fealty to engagements in love affairs. A young scion of the aristocracy of that day, although really enamored of the beautiful daughter of a wealthy pill-manufacturer awakens to the realization that he is bound in honor to another girl, and although he suggests to his sweetheart an eloquent, she dissuades him from such a purpose. The real action of the play is in an old-fashioned garden in New York—though the names of the members of the cast suggest Boston and New England rather than Manhattan island.

Both the first and second acts are in two scenes, and the interval between the events of the first act and that of the second is 24 hours. The children of those appearing in the first act. The third and final action brings the denouement of the story down to 1922 and closes with a romance in which the grand-children of Jack Wainwright and Priscilla Brewster, the two who figured in the shattered romance of the earlier act are paired. In the action of the piece more fortunate than were their grandmothers is frequently and effectively introduced, and in the final act particularly some unusually pretty dances and drills are interpolated, most of them in beautiful costumes.

So many groups of participants are introduced in the varied character of the performance and the changes of time, scenes and manners that it is hardly possible to give more than the mere names of the second part in these numerous groups. Miss Emily Swain is cast in the stellar role of Priscilla Brewster, while the star male role was most capably and effectively handled by Basil Browder, who, like Miss Swain, has a delightful singing voice, excellent stage presence and ease and real dramatic talent. Miss Swain with her beauty, grace and delightful voice and the charming naturalness of her work gave a highly satisfying presentation of her role in the love scenes and later in the role of grandmother. Mr. Browder's work admirably balanced that of Miss Swain and the naturalness with which each acted the role taken constituted the center about which the rest of the performance revolved. Both the performances added grace to their other equipment, executing the dance steps and the stage movements incident to the action of the piece with charming grace and ease.

But there are others who share in the uniform cleverness of the performance by their admirable work notably Miss Flossie Adams, cast first as a social butterfly, later as Elvira Judd, an artful and fascinating young widow, and still later as Mrs. Elvira Riggs, having captured Husband No. 2, George P. Geoghegan, Jr., in his fatherly role of James Brewster, is well made up for the part and showed an excellent conception of the role he essayed. Ernest G. Marchand, appearing first as a lion with the ladies, appears finally as having degenerated to a mouse with one Zenobia, a Xanthippe role well handled by Miss Virginia Overbey. Miss Mazie Wills Penn as Abigail Tompkins, a susceptible maiden, is still Abigail Tompkins and still susceptible twenty years later. Miss Adams, a trained elocutionist, is more than that for she added a charming vivacity and a grace in dancing and that versatility which her role called for. Miss Virginia Wilkins as Primrose Standish, daughter of the charmingly and realizes its possibilities. Misses Margaret Jordan, Eunice Pritchett and Moselle Myers as society girls, look dress and play the part satisfactorily. The bridesmaids, maids of honor and wedding guests contribute to the beauty show in the charming costumes and have acting parts as well in costumes, the changing time of the play affords scope for bewildering variety in styles, ranging from the old hoop-skirt and pantalette days down to the most modern products of the couturier's art and the modiste's masterpieces, while an almost equally revolutionary change is shown in male habiliments. Then the various groups in the drills and dances contribute still further to the colorfulness and variety of costume.

The cast as it appeared in the several acts and scenes and the various incidental or supplementary to the action of the piece are here-with given:

GLORIA SWANSON'S LIVING DEATH!

THE ONE AND THE SAME GLORIA SWANSON.—LEFT—PHOTOGRAPHED TWO YEAR AGO; RIGHT—PHOTOGRAPHED THIS WEEK BY NEA STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER.

By MAURICE HENLE
NEW YORK, April 29.—Gloria Swanson has been killed more times than any other person. She has committed suicide, drowned, died from an operation, expired from heart trouble, been choked to death, run over by an auto truck, and killed by a fall from a horse!

In spite of all this, her pulse today is normal, her complexion perfect, and her feet and wit nimble. She's the happiest "dead" person alive with two beautiful children, a healthy income, a beautiful apartment and a limousine.

Oh death, where is thy sting? For the past year the rumor of the "death" of Miss Swanson filtered into newspaper offices, into the motion picture offices, and even into the ears of Gloria herself. Repeated denials have accomplished nothing. At first it was humorous, then it grew serious. It became the most persistent rumor of its kind ever to gain circulation.

Believes It a Plot
It grew so serious recently that the company which employs the star has assigned trained investigators to trace it to its source. Miss Swanson herself believes it is a deliberate plot to destroy her as a movie actress.

I first saw Miss Swanson about two years ago. I have seen her many times, and while she was making "The Humming Bird," some Vera Riggs, daughter of Elvira Judd, Helen Little, Helen Little, Mrs. Priscilla Higgins, formerly Priscilla Brewster, Emily Swain, "Wizard" Jack Wainwright, the famous inventor, Basil Browder, Mrs. Jack Wainwright, formerly Primrose Standish, Virginia Wilkins, Judd, Flossie Adams, Abigail Tompkins, older but still susceptible, Mazie Wills Penn, Bobby Brewster, a hen-pecked husband, Ernest G. Marchand, Zenobia, his wife—Virginia Overbey.

Setting same as in first act. The old garden near New York in 1922. Celebration of Priscilla Dean's 20th birthday. Priscilla Dean, grand-daughter of Priscilla Brewster, Emily Swain, Dr. Jack Wainwright, grandson of "Wizard" Jack Wainwright, Basil Browder, Bobby Brewster, still the same Bobby Phil, engaged to Desfree, Bob Douthat, George, engaged to Sue, Charles Booth, Mose, Dillard Ley.

months ago in the Long Island studios I spent considerable time there. I went to see her again today to satisfy myself that she still lives.

And I am convinced that the Gloria Swanson of today is the genuine Gloria Swanson, the only Gloria Swanson who ever lived.

If a theory which the star has is correct, then the world now has to consider a strange tale, the like of which cannot be found outside a de Maupassant story.

Some time ago when Miss Swanson was living in Hollywood, she quarreled with a certain individual. This person she will not name. At that time, according to the star, the person solemnly raised an arm and declared:

"Miss Swanson, did you ever stop to consider the power of propaganda? Did you ever realize that one person can destroy a person or make her?" That against propaganda human beings are powerless.

That was all this person said. Gradually the rumors of her supposed death spread. They were fed by remarks of people who thought they noticed a change in Gloria Swanson in some of her later films, notably "The Humming Bird." People whispered the woman acting under the name of Gloria Swanson wasn't the real Gloria at all! She had died! They were putting a "double" in her place to protect an investment.

People were found who "knew" Gloria Swanson had died. They had

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever used with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. FOREIGN NOTABLES TO ATTEND WEDDING

(By The Associated Press.)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 28.—Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, Ambassador Riano from Spain, a number of other foreign diplomats and notables and several score prominent American officials and citizens were in the city tonight to attend the wedding tomorrow at noon of Miss Cornelia Stuyvesant Vanderbilt to John F. Cecil, first secretary of the British embassy in Washington. The bride is the youngest of the grand children of William H. Vanderbilt and the only child of George W. Vanderbilt, and Mrs. Stuyvesant Vanderbilt. The groom is the son of Lord William Cecil, third son of the Marquis of Harcourt, and of the baroness of Harcourt. He has been in the diplomatic service since 1913.

Among the arrivals today were: Sir Esme Howard, K. C. H., former United States ambassador to Great Britain; Henry White and Mrs. White; the Hungarian minister, Count Laszlo Szechenyi, and Countess Szechenyi, formerly Gladys Vanderbilt, and Mr. and Mrs. Nano, of Rumanian legation.

The wedding will be performed by Bishop Junius M. Horner of the Western North Carolina Episcopal diocese, Rev. A. G. Bramwell, Rector, and Rev. George Granville Merrill, M. A. B. D., Exon, of Stockbridge, Mass., brother-in-law of Mr. Vanderbilt.

Hard Proving She's Alive
"The thing, humorous at first," says Gloria, "now is becoming maddening. What can I do? What can I say? How can I prove that I'm alive? People who have known me for years will swear to it. My physician will swear to it. I will swear to it. Isn't that enough?"

"Why do these rumors go on? I can't run down Fifth Avenue shouting 'I'm Gloria Swanson! I'm Gloria Swanson!'"

"I am convinced of one thing—that the thing started in Hollywood, and that it is a deliberate plot. The invisible fingers of propaganda are stretching out, coming closer and closer and I find myself almost powerless to fight. If I could see my enemy I could destroy it. But I can't see it. I can't see it."

As she talked to me little Gloria Somborn (Miss Swanson in real life is Mrs. Somborn) came in with a nurse and little two-year-old Joseph, an adopted son. The children ran to their mother, and little Gloria said just one word as she threw her chubby arms around the star's neck:

"Mother!"

WHITE MILL NOT SHUT DOWN AS CURRENTLY REPORTED

A report which has been current for some days and which became more widely prevalent yesterday, that the White Mill of the Riverside group of mills had been closed down indefinitely was characterized as erroneous at offices of the corporation yesterday. It was stated on authority that a few more spindles have been stopped in order to meet the present condition confronting the textile industry but there has been no material change in the schedules which have been observed for the past few weeks. It was specifically denied that the White Mill had been indefinitely closed. The local mills are running on a half time basis in common with many mills both in the north and the south. In some of the Southern mills centers the opportunities to earn are at the present moment less generous than they are in this city.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE
People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever used with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

V. M. I. Takes Count From N. Car. State

(Special to The Register)

LEXINGTON, Va., April 28.—V. M. I. dropped a hard fought baseball game here this afternoon at Alumni field to North Carolina State by the count of 5 to 6.

The Tar Heels won by their ability to bunch hits with White's wildness. Four runs on three safeties, a pass and a sacrifice in the sixth won for the visitors. The Cadets out-hit the Down Homers but could not connect at opportune moments. The game was featured by hard hitting on both sides.

Allen, Wolfpack twirler, hurled a steady game, giving up thirteen well scattered hits, but striking out eleven batters and not giving a walk. Nugent, who relieved White on the hill for V. M. I., pitched the last three frames and had the visitors at his mercy, yielding but two hits.

The batting of Gladstone, Holt, Caldwell and Barbour featured. Caldwell connected for three doubles in five trips to the plate and Barbour got two doubles.

COTTON SHOWS LOSSES IN N. O. MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, April 28.—The cotton market was reactionary the greater part of today. After opening 40 to 47 points under Saturday's close, May traded down to 23.94 a little after noon, showing a drop of 31 points under the previous close. July declined as much as 92 points to 27.10 and October made a low of 23.22, or 61 points net down. There was a sharp rally near the end and the close showed net losses of 59 to 60 points on old and 40 to 42 on new crop positions.

The market had rather a week opening as 8 was much lower than due. Prices continued to ease off after the start.

After the early liquidation had run its course, the market turned quiet and although there were a few attempts at rallying the undertone remained weak.

Danville Takes Opener at Home; Raleigh Victim

Danville won its opening game at home in the 1924 Piedmont league season yesterday, defeating Raleigh 11 to 4.

Eddie Regan, who scored the first Danville run of the season in Greensboro Thursday, repeated yesterday, registering the first marker for his team and the first of the game in the opening inning here.

The visitors presented Withem, a right-hander as their first choice in the box, but he was forced to retire in the fourth with two men out, one on base and the score 9 to 0 against him. McLaughlin, who displaced Withem, was much more effective.

The Danville team, however, was not off his shoals in 4 1-3 innings. Pitcher Leo Harris, who did the box-work for the Tobaccoists, was effective in all but a single inning, the seventh, in which the Capitals made all their quarter of markers. The Raleighs registered three of their hits on two bases on balls and with the aid of an error counted four times.

Despite a keen wind which blew in toward the grand-stand and made fielding difficult, the spectators developed enthusiasm in the opening inning when a walk for Regan, singles by Herb Murphy and Resco and an error by Farwell, the visiting short-fielder, and a corking two-bagger to left by Joe Stripp staked the Champions to a 4-run lead. The spectators, aided by the band which accompanied the teams in the parade to the park, gave the Danville players a splendid cheering.

With two out in the first, Matzen, the Raleigh left-fielder, cracked out a two-sacker, but was left stranded, and it was three up and three down until the fourth, when Ricks got a single, but was immediately snuffed out when Matzen rapped into a double. Duncan, who had replaced Barrett in right field when the latter relieved Siner as catcher, opened the sixth with a single, but was eliminated when Kraemer grounded to Herb Murphy, who dented second and passed the ball over to Resco for the second killing.

Menhille Harris' single, Trefrey's sacrifice and Regan's two-bagger made another run for Danville in the second. In the fourth the Murphys drove Withem from the box and added four runs to their total. Heath walked, as he did on two other occasions, and advanced when Cochlin hit down nicely. Harris hit one at short, who was sent for it, but one at short, who was sent for it, but one at short, who was sent for it.

Manager Murphy himself played the short field position and although he made a couple of bobbles, he initiated a double play, figured as the pivot in one started by Belk, and then handled Kraemer's grounder and forced Duncan at second, throwing four fast double plays by the Champions killed Raleigh chances to score in many innings.

Manager Duncan's men also had two double plays, one of them consisting of a strike-out by Resco, the catcher throwing out Murphy, who had started for second.

The hitting honors go to Stripp with his double and homer, and Regan with a two-bagger and a single. For the visitors First Base-men Ricks was the only man to duplicate hits. Right Fielder Heath had a rather unique record for the day, or rather he didn't have one, for he was not at bat at all, having three passes and a sacrifice hit.

The game was devoid of spectacular fielding, but with the exception of the bobbles by the two shortstops the play was generally fast and clever. It was of interest to Danville fans to note that the close of the game was decided by three passes and a sacrifice hit.

Same Teams Play Today

The Danville and Raleigh teams will play today the second game of their three-day series, losing with Raleigh Wednesday, and opening with Raleigh Thursday with Winston-Salem on Thursday—a solid week of baseball. With this home series the Tobaccoists will have a fine chance to get into the running. If somebody will only head those rampaging Bulls.

Twins Take Opener From Greensboro

WINSTON-SALEM, April 28.—The Twins shut the Patriots out in the opening game of the series 4 to 0.

Thompson turned the hard-hitting Greensboro outfit back with five hits, although two of those were double by O'Hara and Mollie Cox. Manager Carroll was put out of the game in the fourth inning and a sacrifice and again in the fifth on two hits and a double steal. No more runs came across the pan until the eighth when Winston pushed over their first two markers. It was a fast game, all the way through and a pitcher's battle until the third inning.

Anderson and Thompson furnished the fielding features for the home team and Fahrey stopped a hot on-back of the second bag as the out-standing stunt played for the visiting team. The box score:

BABE RUTH HITS TWO HOMERS, TOTAL NOW 5. DETROIT RETAINS LEAD

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 29.—The hope springing in the breast of every baseball fan attracted to a Yankee contest that "the Babe will hit one" was fulfilled beyond expectations for 10.000 at Philadelphia yesterday when Ruth hit two home runs and took the major league in that department and equalled his figures for the same date in 1921, the year he established the record of 59 in one season.

The homers, his fifth and fifth of the year, were made in consecutive innings. Ruth also caught eight flies in left field. The world's champion came from behind to beat Philadelphia, 11 to 6, and registered his eighth straight victory.

Detroit retained first place in the American League by defeating Chicago, 7 to 2. Stoner registered his third win of the season. Robertson, who once pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the Tigers, was driven from the box.

VINCENT RICHARDS ALSO RESIGNS FROM CUP TEAM

(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—Vincent Richards, tennis star, has followed the example of William Tilden, II, and resigned from the American Davis cup team, the national champion announced here today.

Tilden made the announcement after receiving a telegram from Richards informing him of his action. In the same telegram, Richards cancelled his engagement to play in the middle states clay court tournament, now on in Pittsburgh at the Germantown Cricket Club here, owing to pressure of both.

The player-writer rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association is responsible for the resignation of Richards as it was in the case of Tilden.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 29.—Resignation of Vincent Richards as a member of the American Davis cup, announced in Philadelphia today by William T. Tilden, II, national champion, who himself resigned recently, has not as yet been received by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, but Julius S. Muller, chairman of the Davis cup committee, it was announced here.

Mr. Myrick, who said he did not believe Richards had resigned, declared he talked with the latter only yesterday and no mention of an impending resignation had been made.

Tilden said today that he had not been approached by an offer from Tilden to play professional tennis.

"I have known for some time that a group of New York men have been waiting to jump in and finance such a movement," the national champion said. "I have heard of Richards' name used in connection with it until last night but I am not surprised."

"Personally I do not favor it. I consider myself an amateur and would prefer to remain such even though I could probably treble my income by joining out and out professional ranks."

"I feel there is a strong movement throughout the country to have the United States Lawn Tennis Association reconsider its action in barring tennis writers. If such a move goes through, I infinitely prefer to remain in amateur ranks despite the most alluring offer to give professional exhibitions. I prefer to see tennis remain an amateur game and unless professionalism is forced upon us, I will remain an amateur, as I consider I have remained one."

RICHARDS CONFIRMS REPORT
(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 29.—Vincent Richards, tennis star, today confirmed a report that he had resigned from the American Davis cup team. His action, he said, was taken because of the decision of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association to bar players from writing for newspapers after January 1, 1925.

Mr. Richards said he resigned last night but that his resignation had not yet been presented officially to the lawn tennis association. He also said he probably would be presented today.

Mr. Richards' withdrawal from the Davis cup team follows that of William T. Tilden, II, national champion, who recently resigned.

with big spectacles is a manufacturer's agent, handling the products of the Minneapolis Heat Regulator Company—for many years known as a successful business man.

At his home in West Chester county, Mr. Baring was very much the recluse. He had a laboratory in his home and spent most of his spare time over test tubes, spirit lamps, rubber stoppers, bottles and all the queer paraphernalia of the chemist's shop. He was by way of being an inventor also, having perfected a thermostat and in incubator. It was a chicken incubator, but the authorities allege now that the amateur chemist also was incubating deadly disease germs. Being of an experimental turn of mind, he is said to have wanted to see just what there was to the germ theory.

Mr. Baring was very fond of animals, according to those about him, and they say his sensitive nature would have rebelled at the thought of vivisection or torturing the helpless creatures usually used by scientists for their experiments. Both of the Barings are described as neurotic. Mrs. Baring having been under the care of physicians for the greater part of her adult life. Both also are described as independently wealthy in their own rights. Mrs. Baring recently having come in for an added fortune which makes her probably the richer of the two.

The accused man's attorney today said his client would have a "strange but complete" defense to the charges of poisoning and the administering of germs. Baring's mother, Mr. Walter Stroud of Baltimore, who has arrived at White Plains, also denies that her son was innocent of any intent actually to harm his wife. Baring admitted having arsenic in the house for the past three months. The authorities claim this was administered to the wife in stuffed dates, malted milk, ginger ale, grape juice, etc. It was not until yesterday, that state troops discovered the culture tubes alleged to have contained diphtheria and pneumonia germs, where Baring obtained the germs is one of the unsolved phases of the case. Baring is said to have worked in his laboratory until he became nervous and "fidgety," and is said to have experienced many have upset him temporarily, inducing him to try his theories out on his wife.

Escapes Unharmd Swept Over Dam In Boat, Youth

(Special to The Bee.)
MARTINSVILLE, Va., April 29.—Cyde Slaydon, of Martinsville has the distinction of being the first person as far as is known in this community who has had the harrowing experience of going over the Power Plant Dam in a canoe and live to tell it.

Slaydon and several other boys had stolen a small boat belonging to Jack Hodges, and for several hours had been rowing up and down the Smith River. His companions tiring, alighted from the boat leaving Slaydon to himself. Unskilled as he was in rowing, he was suddenly caught in the swift current of the stream opposite the boat landing and swept in the direction of the dam just above the Smith River bridge. His efforts to avert the disaster were futile. There was a gradual marshaling of the waters as they approached the dam, for the final plunge. The canoe and its pole occupant were swept over the dam. Slaydon escaped unharmd, and now laughs about his experience. Hodges bemoans the fact that while he has recovered the boat, it leaks badly, and since the accident he has been unable to keep it tied to its moorings.

INDICT BARING FOR TRYING TO POISON WIFE

Was "Kind Hearted" and Would Not Experiment On Rabbits.

(By The Associated Press.)
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 29.—Attorneys for Clarence O. Baring, wealthy chemist and manufacturer, who was indicted by a grand jury yesterday after witnesses testified he tried to kill his wife by mixing poison and epithelium in her pneumonia and diphtheria germs with her food, today plan to seek his release on bail. District Attorney Rowland announced he would oppose their efforts.

Baring, in a highly nervous condition, is watched by special guards posted outside his cell. His trial is set for May 12.

Three indictments, charging intended murder, food poisoning and attempted assault were returned against him after his wife, who is seven years his senior, and a number of other witnesses had told a story of intrigue, domestic difficulties and "another woman" which ended, they claim, with a time money and effort of efforts by Baring to poison his wife.

NEW YORK, April 29.—A kind hearted to try his experiments on rabbits or guinea pigs, Clarence O. Baring, amateur chemist, is believed to have fed arsenic and diphtheria and pneumonia germs to his 46-year-old wife. The amateur chemist told much about his wife's illness, and she believed he was paying attention to younger women. Now she is charging him with attempted murder.

White Plains, where the couple live, is very much caught up over the case which promises to be one of the strangest with which the authorities have had to deal. White Plains is in West Chester county and West Chester county is to New York what Hollywood often has been to Los Angeles. The county can generate more queer criminal tangles than all of the other metropolitan suburbs put together.

It was in West Chester county that young Walter S. Ward, son of a millionaire baker of this city, shot and killed Clarence Peters, the ex-marine, and the county spent something like $80,000 in a fruitless attempt to convict him. Then came the case of Mrs. Chas. Webb, who died last September of pneumonia while in West Chester-Baltimore Country club, and whose friends accused her husband of having been criminally responsible through the administration of strong anti-septic solutions. Mr. Webb was strongly exonerated by the grand jury and his wife's $2,000,000 was decided in his favor.

Next followed the drowning of Angier Duke, who in the midst of a merry party, fell out of a launch, it came up under a yacht club flag and could not fight his way out to clear water again.

On top of all this comes the queer Baring case. In New York City, Mr. Baring, a pale, thin, under-sized man

Half Pint, Full Pint

By BILLY EVANS

Good pitchers come in assorted sizes.

The twirling staff of Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics offers conclusive proof.

One of the members is the elongated Bryan Harris, who measures six feet and six inches, yet weighs only 180 pounds. He is a right hander.

Another member of Mack's staff is Donald Meeker, five feet six inches, weight 155. He is a southpaw, and a mighty promising one.

In Bryan Harris and Donald Meeker, Connie Mack presents the long and short of it in pitching, as far as the American League is concerned. There is just the matter of one foot difference between the two from a perpendicular standpoint, with Harris holding the edge.

Considered horizontally, the diminutive Meeker has much the best of it. He is a stocky, well set up reeler. His pitching is a study in efficiency. Fifteen years ago a pitcher built upon the lines of Meeker wouldn't have been given the slightest consideration as a big league possibility. Too light to stand the grind, would have been the unanimous verdict of the experts.

While the big pitcher is still regarded with favor, lack of size no longer prevents a promising recruit from getting a big opportunity.

Meeker reminds one of Dicky Kerr of Chicago White Sox fame. He goes about his work in much the same manner, and if anything, has more stuff. His curve ball breaks fast and his speed is surprising for one so small.

He has promise, says Connie Mack. "Seems to grasp what a pitcher needs to get along in the majors. If he should come through he would be a big help. A dependable southpaw means much to a ball club."

High Praise From Cy Perkins.
Cy Perkins, star catcher of the Athletics, says he has the makings, that he has improved with every game.

The pitching that I have seen him do, as umpire, impressed me most favorably. He has more than a mere chance.

Size is no longer essential to success as a big league pitcher. Lack of it is no longer a serious handicap. Courage, brains and control are far more necessary than physique.

Expect Surprises In Boxing Bouts at Madison Garden
NEW YORK, April 29.—There may be some surprises in store for boxing fans in the series of bouts to be held in Madison Square Garden tonight for the benefit of the Olympic fund. Paul Berlenbach and Harold Abbott are to have a 12 round affair, and Paul and Hal can hit their names notwithstanding.

Young Stribling of Georgia, and Harry Thaw—I may have set a new A. U. record for losing the eight-pound rabbit, but I never was foolish enough to try to explain the difference between a league of nations and a world court.

Tex Rickard—Trying to establish economic relations with Europe may be all right but it is evident Mr. Coolidge never tried to do business with Georges Carpentier.

Gene Sarazen—In some respects the speech may be a masterpiece but the president's failure to discuss the advisability of better golf ball can hardly be overlooked.

Babe Ruth—Mr. Coolidge seems to have had nothing to say and said it impressively.

Johnny Evers—Cal's statement that the Dawes reparation plan is the most important occurrence since the armistice is a scandalous libel against the White Sox, who have been leading the league for a week.

Prince of Wales—What do I think of it? (Whoa!) Well, as far as I can tell, (Whoa!) It is sound and conservative. (Whoa!) And some of the suggestions—(Flop!).

Harry Daugherty—I was never in the little green house in K street. That was a lavender house.

Jack Dempsey—I'm glad to hear that Cal wants to do business with all the nations in the world, and I suppose he's being influenced a whole lot by the success I had with the guy Firpo from South America.

Bill Tilden—Mr. Coolidge oughtn't to have any trouble making the Olympic team as an amateur after saying that the management of the government has been in honest and competent hands.

One Punch O'Gooley—Cal is all wet when he insists the main support of peace is understanding. The main support of peace is anything, anywhere, is a good right hook to the jaw.

SOOT FLIES 40 MILES
WHITE SALMON, Wash., April 29.—White chickens turned black over night, housewives' clothing was ruined, and the whole countryside was given a dark hue when soot from the mud-pots of Washington orchards drifted over into Oregon. The oil-filled pots were kept burning in the lowlands to offset the frost during a recent cold wave.

For the Game's Sake

By LAWRENCE PERRY

NEW YORK, April 29.—Whatever the merits of the original issue between Tilden and the lawn tennis association the most recent development seems to have worked into a question which is the bigger: the world's lawn tennis champion or the organization that conducts American lawn tennis?

In delaying the enforcement of the player-writer rule until 1925 the tennis association had no thought of temporizing, no thought of making certain that at least another Davis Cup victory should be insured before putting clamps upon those alleged to be deriving large incomes through their prominence as racket wielders. It involved merely the allowance of a season of grace in deference to existing contractual relations between players and publishers.

Tilden in principle matters was probably actuated by a desire to bring home to the tennis public in general, a realization that the ruling means practically the loss of one depended upon above all others to maintain our tennis prestige. Now comes Vincent Richards' statement. He stands with Tilden.

Those who held that American lawn tennis stands for something bigger than individual interest will accept with regret the tacit interest that the two stars had their journalistic pursuits come before their tennis playing. Nonetheless, the stand of Tilden and Richards will add to the support that has already been given the committee on amateurism of the U. S. L. A. if only because of the conviction that their financial rewards must be very material to cause them to throw down their country.

Mike Burke, the Greenwich villager, are on the card for a six inning set to and McTigue's recent conqueror may have his hands full. Eddie Carrollball Martin will go against Charlie Phil Rosenberg for six rounds and Jack Zivic and Ever Hammer will step a few as also will Pete Zivic and Irving Shapiro.

Johnny Attell, matchmaker for the Pioneer A. C., has matched Benny Valger, the East Side junior lightweight for ten rounds with all Delmont at the Pioneer club Tuesday night.

Tony Vaccarella, protégé of Johnny Dundee, will meet Jimmy Marx, the Long Island brawler, for twelve rounds at the Lenox sporting club tomorrow night.

Ted Jamieson will get his first big change to show his stuff when he faces Tiger Flowers, the promising light heavyweight for twelve rounds at the Commonwealth sporting club next Saturday night.

Luis Vicentini, the Chilean lightweight, had a large party of friends to see him do his training stunts at Summit, N. J., this afternoon. Luis is in great shape for his 12 round affair with Pal Moran at Madison Square Garden on Friday night.

While the big pitcher is still regarded with favor, lack of size no longer prevents a promising recruit from getting a big opportunity.

Meeker reminds one of Dicky Kerr of Chicago White Sox fame. He goes about his work in much the same manner, and if anything, has more stuff. His curve ball breaks fast and his speed is surprising for one so small.

Grandstand Gaff

PITCHER With them proved an easy mark for the slugger Ted MacCahill and sent it soaring against the wind over left center. He also slammed out a double. Stripp bids fair to hold a berth on the team.

Although it may sound a bit peculiar Heath was not "at bat" a single time yesterday.

Charlie Carroll seems to be his same old self in the sense that he just can't keep from protesting decisions. Charlie wins the distinction of being the first Piedmonter to be banished from the game. And besides he was fined ten smackers by Mr. Umps, who had to call cops to lead him away. Now isn't that Charlie all over?

Lefty Wilson will probably work on the mound against Raleigh this afternoon, though there are others too, who are due for duty including Mel-lard, of last year.

Freddie Dorman, star shortstop for Danville last year, has not yet broken into the line-up of the Wichita club in the Texas League. Reports were circulated yesterday that Dorman was again a free agent, but these have not been confirmed and are probably untrue.

Jackson's Twins turned the tables yesterday and blanked Greensboro. Pitcher Thompson doing the work by allowing the Carrollmen only five measly bingles.

Pierre's Durham Bulls are going like a house afire, still holding the league lead, by shutting out the hard hitting High Point bunch yesterday. Weaver allowed them but four scattered hits, while Rube Eldridge was touched for fifteen safeties good for seven tallies.

Although a couple got by him at short, his presence had a good effect on the team, giving the boys a more confident feeling. Duke Duncan also broke into the game for the first time.

DEMOCRACY

America has recently come out victorious in a war in which it entered solely for the principles of Democracy, many Americans making the supreme sacrifice, yet in Danville there are a few who undoubtedly do not believe in the principles of Democracy. WHY are they banding together and trying to persuade others to join them in what they call the Good Government Club? It is one of the most Undemocratic plans ever originated. Are the people of Danville incapable of electing their city officials? If they are capable, why is it necessary to organize such a club to vote for certain men whom it considers good business men? In the last election this club supported nine men which would be presumed to be good business men. These men were good business men as they had made success in their different lines of business, but they only represented one element the people of the city at large. This was a serious mistake for all such bodies, should represent people from all walks of life. All true Americans believe in Democracy, and should support all movements along Democratic lines. The only Club needed in Danville or anywhere else, is one whose sole purpose should be, that all citizens who have the necessary qualifications to pay their taxes, and vote at all elections; to make every one realize that it is their duty to take an active part in the election of all officials. If several more clubs would be formed within the city along the lines of the Good Government Club, each club, having its members pledge themselves for its candidates, the men so elected would not represent the majority of the qualified voters, which would be a dangerous condition. If you believe in a Government of the People, By the People, For the People, DO NOT join or pledge yourself to vote for any list of candidates until you know who they are and the principles upon which they stand.

Cuticura Healed Large Pimples All Over Face and Neck

"I had been troubled with pimples and blackheads for two years. The pimples were all over my face and neck causing me a great deal of annoyance and embarrassment, especially when I was in company. They were hard, large, and red, and festered and scaled over, itching and burning all the time, causing me to scratch, which made them worse. The eruptions on my face hurt and caused disfigurement."

"A friend urged me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after steady and continued applications for four months I was completely healed." (Signed) E. Mue Foster, 1309 De Bree Ave., Norfolk, Va.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are excellent.

arrived after forty were wounded and were unable to prevent a recurrence of the same fight when the meeting was over and the Hitlerites were returning home.

The whole Sunday was devoted to the elections. The nationalists, who had organized a monster meeting, at which the late Herr Helfferich was to speak, turned their meeting into mourning services for their dead leader, celebrating him as "The greatest, squarest fighter ever."

Herr Hergschel of the German nationalist party broke down after a glowing speech in honor of Herr Helfferich. It is hoped he will recover in time to continue his campaign for his party.

The middle parties called countless smaller meetings, which were amazingly alike, despite the differences in title. The center, democrat, and peoples parties issued invitations, and their leaders talked of theory and abstract ideas loudly and with conviction.

FORTY WOUNDED IN COMMUNIST BATTLE

(Special Cable Dispatch.)
(Copyright 1924 by Chicago Tribune.)
BERLIN, April 28.—Forty were wounded, one dying, after an election meeting of Hitlerites, who were attacked by 3,000 communists, who waylaid all the streets to the concert hall where the Hitlerites were meeting. The communists are on the war path because it was rumored that General Von Ludendorff would speak at the meeting, and they were bent on "punishing him."

Big groups of Hitlerites marched to the meeting, their flags flying, and passed the streets unmolested by the communists, who were hiding in doorways in the side streets looking for the smaller groups, which were easier to beat. When they felt they were in the majority they even turned against street cars, beating all the Hitlerites wearing insignia they could find. Police reinforcements

BACK COMES "BLOSSOM TIME"

At The Majestic Thursday, May 1st: Seats Now Selling

The Messrs. Schubert's musical gem, "Blossom Time," returns to The Majestic Thursday, May 1st, with the same cast that was seen here a few weeks ago. Great as was the demand then for seats it was not equal to that for the return engagement, and those who plan seeing the musical play on this occasion had better secure their seats immediately or they will be among those not present.

Local theatregoers who saw "Blossom Time," before understand why it has been a tremendous success, not only here but everywhere played, and why it will never grow old. There are four companies on the road, and each is doing capacity business. The same company that played here before will return, which will be good news, for it is the unanimous opinion of the critics that it is one of the finest ever seen in the city.

The company includes Greek Evans, who scored great success as "Franz Schubert" and Margaret Merie, who is establishing herself as a fine favorite everywhere, not only because of her winsome personality, but because of her truly great voice. Among those others who come back are Arthur Geary, Robert Lee Allen, Fenita Soris, Anna Keller, Bee Brady, in fact the same company as before without a single change.

Prices 50c to $2.50, plus tax. Reserve seats now.

CARD OF THANKS.

WANT NEW CEILING
NEW YORK, April 24.—The Grand Central Terminal probably will get a new sky. A leaky roof has left patches of black, white and green in the present sky. So the directors of the New York Central Railway are considering designs for a new arrangement of the stars, which are painted on an expanse of ceiling two blocks in area.

PERFECT TWINS
NEW YORK, April 24.—Jacob and Edward Friend of East Orange, N. J., twins and students at Columbia University, have received Phi Beta Kappa keys—the first twins in the country to be thus honored. The biggest crocodile in the London Zoo is about 14 feet in length, and nearly 90 years old.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, April 23.—The cotton market opened steady with Liverpool just about as due. First trades were two points down on July and five up on October compared with the previous close. There was no trading in May at the start but May in New York was higher despite the circulation of 17,000 notices there. The market advanced after the opening on covering based on expectation of unfavorable weather in the belt. July trading up to 27.56 and October to 23.66 or 14 to 16 points above the previous close. Business was comparatively quiet.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon.)
NEW YORK, April 23.—Cables steady, forecast favorable. Journal of Commerce special reports from Arkansas and Tennessee show prospects improved over last year. Only slight increase acreage but more fertilizer being used. Business light in North street yesterday but more curtailing talked of.

New crop months should rule easier on the weather but will sympathize more or less with the action of May and July. There is apparently a large short interest still open in May judging from the way it holds its premium.

EYE IN CEILING

LONDON, April 23.—"I have about as much privacy as a goldfish," an elderly woman complained to a magistrate. She said that the people in the flat above her bored holes in their floor and spied on her, while into another hole they inserted a tube and hurled insults through it. The magistrate declared there were no grounds for a summons, however.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon.)
NEW YORK, April 23.—I am going to write a very bullish letter this morning but what I say won't be my thoughts or words but the thoughts and the words of the secretary of the treasury. Mr. Mellon is one of the ablest and most successful men of the country. He usually knows what he is talking about but naturally he isn't going to put his thoughts in such a way as to scare the country and on the other hand he isn't the kind of man to deliberately misstate facts.

In connection with the views of business expected by the Federal Reserve Board Mr. Mellon says there is a very good volume of business at present but there isn't enough business going on to absorb the productivity of the country. He believes that there hasn't been a sufficient increase in the consumptive capacity of the country to keep pace with its very great productive capacity.

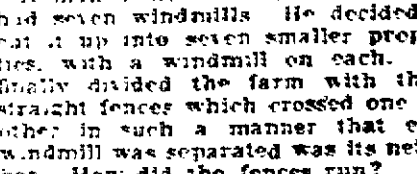

Now just stop to think what this means and its effect on employment and on profits of corporations.

NEW YORK STOCKS.
NEW YORK, April 23.—Reactionary price tendencies prevailed at the opening of today's stock market. Selling pressure was resumed against the steel, motor, textile and other industrial initial losses of a point or more being recorded by Dupont, Calumet and Arizona, American Woolen and Yellow Cab. U. S. Steel common opened 5-8 lower. Ralls held relatively firm, particularly the North-western issues.

Trading was rather sluggish in the early decline, bear traders restricting their commitments because of the uncertainty regarding the action of the United States Steel Corporation directors on the question of an extra dividend at the meeting late today.

United States Cast Iron Pipe, which was run up sharply just before the close yesterday, dropped back 2-5, 8 while Lima Locomotive, U. S. Rubber first pfd., Gulf States Steel and Wabash pfd. yielded a point or more. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

DAILY PUZZLE

A man owned a large farm, which had seven windmills. He decided to cut it up into seven smaller properties, with a windmill on each. He finally divided the farm with three straight fences which crossed one another in such a manner that each windmill was separated from its neighbor. How did the fences run?

Yesterday's answer:
When the three gamblers agreed that the loser should always double the amount of money that the other had before them, and the first gambler had $50 at the beginning, and each had $50 at the beginning, the amounts at the beginning had been $130, $70 and $50.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE.

TAXES

Congress sidesteps the most urgent taxation problem. What we need, above all else, is a simplification of the income tax laws so that the average man can understand them, and so there'll be fewer loopholes through which cunning lawyers can drag their clients.

What good is a tax as long as lawyers can find a way to evade it? A favorite method is declaring stock dividends, which is equivalent to distributing earnings and then using them to buy new stock, all without paying income tax. Another dodge is to allow corporation earnings to pile up as unnecessary surplus, awaiting the time when taxes will be lower, then distributing the pie. There are other ways, thousands of them. Lawyers know, and only the rich can afford the lawyers.

TRICKERY

Suppose you buy $1000 of stock at a par value of $100 a share. It drops to $60 a share. You tell your broker to sell the stock. Since you have lost $400, you "write off" $400 as loss in making out your income tax. The law says you must wait several weeks before buying the stock back.

The tax dodgers get around this by selling the stock and immediately buying it back in, for instance, the wife's name. Later it is transferred to the original owner. Net result: $400 is "written off" as a loss in making out income tax return, though the whole transaction has been on the broker's books only. Lawyers frame the laws and usually are careful to leave loopholes.

The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan was created as the final link in Henry Ford's original plan of building "a car for the multitude" to make it possible for almost anybody to own a Ford.

The plan in addition to paying the way to motor car ownership, will also teach hundreds of thousands of persons the habits of thrift, from among the ranks of 20,000,000 wage earners in this country who will buy their Fords in this manner, realizing the great thrift in this systematic plan of saving.
